Remote Learning Policy

Hands-on experiences in field and lab work are fundamental components of FHL programs. No amount of classroom or remote learning can replicate these experiences, which distinguish courses at a field station from those on college campuses. Thus, students enrolled in an FHL course are expected to be present at FHL: for summer courses, for the duration of the 5 weeks; for autumn, winter, and spring courses, for all dates with scheduled class activities (lectures, labs, field trips).
